Turtle Tragedy

A MYSTERIOUS ailment that already has taken two of the three members of a family of turtles at the Marion Auto club is threatening the life of the third and last member of the reptilian group. Mrs. D. V. Gellman, secretary of the club, fears.

Not long ago the three turtles were just one big happy family, spending their idle hours in a large bowl of water on the counter in the club headquarters. Only one remains now.

It all started when an adopted baby member of the family took sick failed to eat anything that was offered it and finally died. One of the others began showing the same symptoms and it too passed away.

The third is still alive and paddling about in the water, but Mrs. Gellman expects any day to find it following the path of the others to its eternal reward if any.

Sheriff Loses

SHERIFF JOHN J. FRANCHI is out the price of three meals as the result of a wager he made more than a month ago with Dorothy Brantley, 27 year old New York to Pacific coast hiker.

The girl is attempting to walk the entire distance without the aid of any automobile. She and Fran are waiting she would serve at as far as the Mississippi river.

The sheriff has received a letter from the girl which was postmarked Clinton Iowa on the west bank of the Mississippi.

The girl stopped at Francis city when she turned the Marion county sheriff's name was the same as her own.

Miss Fran is very interested in her.

Helps Looks

REMODELING is as readily in order in Marion this spring judging from the act of at least half a dozen business places. Decided changes in complexion have been undergone by several business buildings.

New double windows have been built on either of both the Shaker Lumber Co. and the Marion Lumber Co. greatly enhancing the appearance of both.

The City Bakery boasts a new front and their improvements remodeling work cleaning and painting have been done by the Anthony Laundry (Hughes & Son) and Hotel Marion. The latter brick building is receiving a coat of paint.

NAMES T E HEADS

Club Members Hold Meeting at Hanger Inn.

PHOSPHORUS June 27.—Mrs. Harold Osborn entertained the I. F. Club at the Hanger Inn Wednesday night. Dinner was followed by a short business session and election of officers. These names were Mrs. D. D. Jax president, Mrs. Paul Kyle secretary and treasurer.

During the hour games and contests were enjoyed. In the final test the prize was awarded Mrs. Louise Malzer. Miss Hazel Osborn was the guest.

Mrs. J. F. Moore entertained the Hanger Inn with a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Hanger Inn Wednesday. The afternoon was spent with needle work and scholastic. Twelve members were present. Mrs. Millie Wynt will entertain the club in July.

A new muffler for locomotive discharges steam and hot water in a fine spray between tracks so that they do not obstruct an engineer's vision nor damage cars on adjacent tracks.

BASK IN DAME FORTUNE'S SMILE

Thomas N. De Loser and his wife will soon sell their last bag of popcorn. They have just been notified that his grandmother, Abbie J. Carrollton who died recently in Memphis Tenn. willed them $1500 000 of her $10 000 000 estate. The couple for years eked out a meagre living at their popcorn stand in Pueblo Col. They will start on an extensive travel tour as soon as they receive their legacy.

C. Z. Zachman To Attend Kiwanis Club Convention

C. Z. Zachman of 722 South Prospect street will represent the Marion Kiwanis club in the national Kiwanis convention in Atlantic City beginning July 4. He is the only member of the local club who will attend the meeting. He is a charter member of the Marion organization.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, June 27

Although affairs may be busy and interesting according to the dominant lunar transits of the day, are some precipitate a divide which must be catered and as welcome, undesirable and possibly devastating. It is difficult to preserve the nature of the possible visitation which may be abrupt radical and far reaching. In its results unless handled with wisdom and circumspection. If possible make haste slowly deferring change removal and travel until a more propitious time.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a lively year with surprising developments threatening sudden change and removal which it would be well not to embrace unless the ultimate objectives are well weighed and calmly decided upon. Hasty actions and decisions might prove far reaching and disastrous. Deal cautiously with strangers. A child born on this day should be talented energetic and resourceful but may be disposed to be restless uncontented and prone to make rash and impulsive changes to its detriment.

HARD-SOFT LARGE-SMALL CORNS

Out To Stay Out—Roots and All Magic Oxygen Salts Bath Never Fails No More Burning Aching Feet.

No matter how many corns you have or how painful they are—soak your feet for 15 minutes in a delightful soothing and restfulizing foot bath for 4 or 5 nights—then lift corns and callouses right out—roots and all and they won't come back either unless you wear shoes again which aggravate your feet.

No cutting or dinking is required because Radox liberates oxygen which softens hard outer layers of corns each night penetrating the pores further and further carrying the salts right to roots of corns which are so loosened they can be lifted out bodily.

Your feet are made strong—healthy—elastic—hard skin on heels and toes goes also.

Radley's Drug Store and all good drugstores are stocked with Radox—if they aren't insist upon them ordering it if you want to experience real foot joy and comfort.—Ads Great Victory for the President.

To suffer his worst legislative defeat and gain the greatest victory of his presidential career during the same week is an experience very probably limited to Mr. Hoover. If there has been a similar case, it has passed from the public mind.
There is no question but what the vote of sixty-six to six by which the World War veterans' bill was passed by the upper house of congress over the presidential denunciation of the proposed measure was a pronounced rebuff, a rebuff augmented and re-centuated by the vote of 324 to forty-nine by which the house passed the bill as amended in the senate. By the same token, the vote of 188 to 182 by which the house sustained the President's veto of the bill within something like twenty-four hours of its approval of the proposed legislation and its approval, by a vote of 365 to four, of a new proposed measure framed to meet the presidential objections to the original bill can not be taken as other than a victory for the chief executive as overwhelming as it is astounding.

What the fate of the new bill will be in the senate is on the knees of the gods. It may be expected to meet the attack of the senate radicals, who call themselves Republicans for the purpose of securing election, and the element of the opposition party which is always ready to put politics above the best interests of the country. It may be loaded down with amendments which will make it as objectionable to President Hoover as the bill just rejected by him and cause him to veto it also, but no matter what the outcome may be in this regard, the surprising reversal shown by the house hasn't a parallel in the legislative history of the country.

A Kansas City radio net manufacturing concern has sued the Radio Corporation of America and other corporations associated with it in control of valuable patents for $30,000,000, charging a vast illegal pool created in violation of the Sherman antitrust law. Great Scott! In the light of all these great combinations of recent years, can it be that the Sherman law hasn't yet turned up its toes to the daisies?

Water Company's Request Refused.

Word of the refusal of the state board of health to grant the request of the Marion Water company, that it be permitted to draw on the Little Scioto for a part of its water supply, was received with general satisfaction throughout the city.
The very thought of drinking water from such a source of supply is naturally repulsive to people who for years have enjoyed clear, pure water lifted from deep, pipe-encased wells.

If Chief P. H. Waring, of the division of sanitary engineering of the state health department, is to be credited, and there is not the slightest apparent reason why he should not be, the plans submitted to the state department of health do not include any filtration tanks, which the state health authorities manifestly figure are essential, as the absence of provision for them in the plans is one of the reasons why the request of the Water company was rejected.

It may be that such was not the intention of the Water people, but had they secured the state board's approval of their request, they could have drawn upon the polluted waters of the sluggish Little Scioto for a part of their supply and, without filtering it, have pumped it through their mains after treating it with chemicals.
Thus far there has been nothing to indicate a failure of the company's wells. The plan to pump water from the Little Scioto was prompted, the Water people have stated, by the fact that the river water is softer and will reduce the labor of softening. Hence the reason for the proposed change is an economic one. In the light of the cost of water to the consumers, that reason should not be permitted to hold.

Seventy tons of paper were showered upon Admiral Byrd and his party as they drove through the streets of New York City. Admitting that it brings out once more one of the peculiar manias from which New Yorkers suffer, at the same time it is well to remember that it helped to reduce unemployment.
The litter had to be picked up, and new directories and telephone books will have to be printed and new supplies of sticker tape gotten out.

To Eliminate the Curves.

The announcement of County Surveyor Cecil B. Leavens—that three curves in the Hawley highway, which are considered points of hazard, are to be eliminated during the reconstruction of the four miles of the highway extending eastward from the city limits—no doubt made pleasing reading for the majority of motorists.
Surveyor Leavens stated that the necessary tracts for the straightening of the roadway have been acquired and that when the highway is reopened to traffic next fall drivers will find the reconditioned highway in all ways as fine a piece of roadway as could be desired.

Statistics show that the majority of traffic accidents do not occur on curves, but on straight stretches of highway. This may be due to the fact that there are far more stretches of straight highway on the average road than curves, especially is this true where plains are the rule, rather than high hills around which roads are run rather than over them. Possibly it is due to the fact that most drivers slow up for curves and let their machines out on straight roadways, which may explain the manifest prejudice of drivers against curves, for the average driver wants to speed and curves slow up speed.
Whatever the reason, there is a trend to straight highways, and the elimination of the three curves will conform to this trend and give motorists the impression that the highway is safer than at present, regardless of what statistics may show. After all is said, what the traveling public thinks of a highway, rather than what it is, decides its popularity, and the aim of highway officials is not only to make roadways safe, but also attractive to the public.

READY FOR REGULAR WORK.

Editorial Opinion.

SEVENTY TONS OF PAPER ON BYRD.
The statisticians have been at work. It is estimated that seventy tons of paper were showered upon Admiral Byrd and the members of his party on the occasion of his triumphal entry into New York City. This tonnage is "Broadway's characteristic salute to returning celebrities." The amount is known because it had to be collected afterwards by an army of scavengers. All kinds of waste were used to make this miasmic snowstorm, and when everything else failed, the tenants and employees of the skyscrapers on Broadway tore up the new telephone books and hurled them to the winds. The cost of cleaning up this mess was exactly $21,915.

No one grudges Admiral Byrd and other famous men the homage they receive on their homecoming, but it might be suggested that there are other and better ways of showing it than by littering the streets with waste paper. At intervals we hear complaints about the untidy condition of the streets of American cities. That is putting it mildly; most of them are actually dirty. That is because we have never been properly instructed to do our part in keeping them clean. Cleanliness is a habit. It needs to be taught in this country. Any one who threw trash into the street in foreign cities would be arrested. Here it is regarded as an evidence of exuberance, if not of patriotism. Since it is the custom in sophisticated New York, we presume the paper shower on returning heroes will continue indefinitely.— Philadelphia Inquirer.

BEWARE THE QUICK TAN.

Trying to acquire in twenty-four hours a coat of tan that ought normally to result from three months' exposure to the sun is one way to turn a vacation from a thing of joy to one of considerable pain and perhaps permanent affliction. We have the word of none other than Dr. Hugh S. Cummings, surgeon general of the United States health service.

Dr. Cummings points out that severe sunburn not only is painful, but frequently it works bodily injury that requires years to repair. Individuals differ as to the amount of sunlight they can endure without suffering unpleasant consequences.

One queer quick of human nature is to be found in the sedentary worker, especially. He sits all winter long, acquiring delicacy and becoming generally a hot-house plant. Then, in two weeks, he wants to take on all the external qualities of vile, robust manhood, including a bronzed skin.
It can not be done without considerable risk.

Dr. Cummings's warning elicits overreaction, as well. It should not be necessary to remind middle-aged men that attempting to emulate youth in athletics may result disastrously—but it seems that it is. An 1880 model human engine can not be expected to chug like a steam locomotive, and he frequently sees them trying to, with resultant boiling of radiators and burning of valves.—Columbus Dispatch.

THE TEST OF FLEXIBILITY.

As soon as the tariff commission shall be reorganized, as permitted by the provisions of the Hawley-Smoot bill, a new test of the idea of executive tariff modification will begin. The promise of relief from tariff inequalities by this method is not new. That promise was held out in order to quiet opposition to the tariff bill passed by the first regular session of congress after the beginning of the Harding administration—the same act by which such modification was made possible—but as the whole world knows, the net effect of the new principle of flexibility was to make a very high tariff still higher. Neither Harding nor Coolidge believed that the 1922 tariff rates needed any modification in the downward direction.

There is every reason to believe, however, that President Hoover, along with a large share of his party, does regard the new tariff rates as excessive, at many points. The country will be eager to see, therefore, whether we now have a tariff flexibility outfit which is capable of bending in the downward direction—not merely in some few items of no general importance, but at points where the interests of the great mass of consumers are directly and seriously concerned. If such results are not shown, public opinion is likely to turn against the whole idea of tariff flexibility as only a device to delude the voters into acceptance of whatever the tariff log-rollers in congress may choose to impose upon them.—Columbus Dispatch.

Probably Not Conscious of It.
An after-dinner speaker recently insisted that prohibition has made conversation a lost art. We wonder how well he remembers the sort of conversation that used to develop after a few high-balls.—Detroit Free Press.

The Word of God.

There is one body, and one spirit, even as we are called in one hope of your calling: One Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, Who is above all, and through all, and in you all.—Eph. 4:3-6.
Prayer—Praise God for His grace and favor to our fathers in distress.

Nearing French Coast.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.
On the Atlantic, June 27—All the songbirds are flying from America to their native lands, consequently the ship's concert—usually a terrific yawn—was musically an event.
Such singers as Giovanni Martinelli, Metropolitan tenor, shivered the ship's timbers with booming notes.
There were also Pavel Ludiker, Metropolitan basso; Antonin Trautoul, French tenor; Alexandre Kurganoff, of the Philadelphia opera; Pierre Luboshutz, pianist; Jean Be-detti, cellist of the Boston symphony; Paul Kochanski, violinist; Marja Kurenko, soprano; and Maurice Yvain, composer of "My Man" and "La Bouche".
Each responded freely and the suave Henry Sell as master of ceremonies collected $300—a record amount—which will be turned over to the charity fund for seamen's orphans. I have somehow always believed these orphans breakfasted on caviar and played with jeweled toys, judging from the huge sums raised for them.

But I am told the money is judiciously and wisely expended. The most poignant lines ever written, I think, were those penned by Pierre Loti in his "Pêcheurs d'Islande" as a glowing tribute to the widows and orphans of the brave men who go down to sea in ships. It reads:
"And all the hours of the day passed, one after another, and all the hours of the night, and all the hours of the morning. As she counted the days when he ought to have been back, a wild terror seized upon her. She did not want any more to know either the date or the names of the days."
I am told, too, that the financial plight of the majority of grand opera stars this year is similarly tragic. With few exceptions—they were caught in the market crash—innumerable completely wiped out and in debt.
And with the popularity of grand opera at a low ebb the future is dark. But they twittered magnificently.

In a few hours the good ship will be warped to the dock at LeHavre and those of us from back home will be "vulgar foreigners." It has been the smoothest crossing ever experienced, and if I don't neglect to pack the lower section of a pair of silk pajamas or something, I am content. And may come again.

My irrepressible pooch, Billy, has a morning habit at home of leaping to the middle of the floor, stretching and yawning something that sounds like "Yee-oo-or-ork," rolling over and scotching himself along on his back. But the roll of the ship cramps his style. He makes the effort, sits on one naunch mystified and cocks his head quizzically like the dog in the talking machine ad.
Sometimes I think he is positively ridiculous.

One of those crisp talking bankers met Edna Ferber the other morning and tactlessly observed: "I have read about forty pages in your novel 'Cimarron' and don't like it at all." Miss Ferber offered sympathy and walked on. This morning he stopped her winked at each other, nor do I blame them.

On the other hand the winking couple can Cosmic Radiation.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.
Is the universe a mere fortuitous conglomeration of atoms? Have things arranged themselves in their present state as the result of chance?
Our scientific ancestors would have answered these questions in the affirmative. Science so late as half a century ago believed in the accidental theory of the universe. Contemporary science is changing all that. We think of the universe now, not in terms of atoms but in terms of radiation.
Entropy is one of the great factors in the making of the universe. Entropy is a mathematical measure of the random element which can increase in the universe, but cannot decrease. Eddington maintains that this —that entropy always increases—maintains the supreme position among the laws of nature. There can be no decrease of the random element. The method of entropy universal in its application. It is concerned not with the nature of the individual, with the individual only as a component of a crowd.

Suppose we start with a fortuitous conglomeration of ingredients. After a sufficient course of ingredients, these must reach a state the physicist describes as a "condition of maximum entropy." For the sake of convenience, we may call this the "final state." The clock wound up would be the original state, for example; the clock run down would be the final state.
In the universe we concern ourselves with radiation, and secondarily with atoms with both. These are the ingredients which we have to work. The question is of a bet, for instance; we wager odds against a certain event happening. Now exact mathematical calculation shows that, granting the existence of atoms and the phenomena of radiation, the odds against even a small atom, which is capable of dissolving in radiation, remaining undissolved is unusually great. The odds are about ten to one against the atom remaining intact for the 430,000,000,000 years to come.
The universe is far from being in its final state, since we know that there still exist a number of undissolved atoms.

Now let us try to find the odds against the present division of the total energy of the universe into atoms and radiation becoming fortuitous. It turns out to be the same number as that given above.

Everything, then, points, as Jeans and points with irresistible force, to a finite event, or series of events, of creation at some time or times, not infinitely remote. As he puts it in "Eos."

"The universe can not have originated chance out of its present ingredients, neither can it have been always the same now. For in either of these events we would be left save such as are incapable of dissolving into radiation: there would neither sunlight nor starlight, but a cool glow of radiation uniformly diffused through space."

This is, indeed, so far as present science can see, the final end toward which creation moves, and at which it must, at last, arrive.—Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service, Inc.

ASKS TO DROP RURAL STATION

Pennsylvania Railroad Files Application To Abandon Harvey Station.

Second attempt of the Pennsylvania railroad in a year to abandon small non-subsiding station in Marion county was started today with the filing of an application with the state utility commission to eliminate Harvey station, four miles northeast of Marion. Hearing on the application has been set for July 21 by the commission. Several months ago, the Pennsylvania made an unsuccessful attempt to abandon Lynn station, six miles south of here. Harvey station is said to be more than 30 years old, having been established before the Pennsylvania railroad acquired its present holdings in Marion county shortly after 1900. It derived its name from a large tract of land known as the Harvey farm. The station consists of a small block building and a siding, where many carloads of hay, livestock and other farm produce was handled in former years. Recently, the volume of business done at the station has decreased, and the railroad is seeking its removal. Prosecutor Alfred Donithen this morning said land owners near Harvey station had made no effort to object to the abandonment of the railroad to abandon the station. Concededly, the part of farmers living near Lynn station prevented the company from abandoning that station.

SUPERINTENDENT AT WALDO RESIGNS POST

K. W. Povenniro Accepts Position as Instructor in Columbus Schools.

K. W. Povenniro, superintendent of the Waldo centralized school, last night tendered his resignation to the board of education in Columbus. Mr. Povenniro, who is 28 years of age and one of the youngest school superintendents in the county, has served as head of the Waldo school for the last three years and prior to that time was employed for one year as principal. He also taught in the Columbus school for one year. Mr. Povenniro is taking a post-graduate course at Ohio State university this summer, majoring in history. He received his degree of bachelor of science in education from that institution in 1927 and since that time has been studying for his master's degree at the university. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Povenniro of 1208 Monterey street in Columbus.

PARK SERVICES ATTRACT MANY

Five Hundred Hear Rev. R. L. Bush, Evangelist, Preach at Camp Meeting.

Followers of the Evangelical church continue to flock to the Garfield park auditorium each night to hear the series of revival services being held there under the auspices of the Columbus district of the Ohio Conference of the Evangelical church. Nearly 400 persons attended the meeting last night and heard Rev. R. L. Bush of Sebring, O., preach on the subject, taken from Romans 1:16-17: "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first and also to the Greek." Rev. Bush related several of his personal experiences of his life in Africa among the natives and pagan tribes. Rev. Bush deplored the fact that the people of the American church are so indifferent to lost souls. He told of instances of little African boys tripping over the obstacles in believing to tell the story of Christ to their pagan fathers and mothers after they themselves had been converted by missionaries. Special music was furnished by a quartet composed of Columbus Evangelical pastors, Revs. Allen, Shadle, Osborn and Gallagher. A quartet of four Evangelical churches also presented some selections. Rev. James H. Campbell sang a solo. Mr. E. J. Hough, of Lancaster, O., preached at the afternoon service. Right persons responded to the altar call yesterday afternoon and one at the service last night.

Senate Gets House Compromise Measure on Relief for Disabled War Vets.

Continued From Page 1. Some beyond those approved by the house. The dispute with the White House was settled last night as far as the house is concerned. Shortly after receiving the president's message emphatically disapproving the Johnson-Rankin bill, the house voted, 385 to 182 to uphold the veto and then with only four dissenting votes passed the Rankin bill. Three Democrats, Landman and Johnson of Texas, and Milligan of Missouri, and the one Farmer-Labor member, Kvale of Minnesota, cast the opposing votes. Dependents on Senate. How soon the compromise measure could be sent to the White House was problematic. Senate leaders were hopeful of quick disposition, but believed that depended upon the intensity of the controversy. If the senate makes changes in the bill, these must be accepted by the house or the measure sent to conference, before it goes to President Hoover. As passed by the house the bill provides for pensions ranging from $12 to $40 monthly in accordance with the degree of disability.

ENFORCEMENT PLAN OUTLINED

Mitchell Arranges for Closer Federal and State Dry Law Cooperation.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 27.—Attorney General Mitchell is making plans for closer cooperation between state and federal authorities in the enforcement of the prohibition laws. In a statement published today he made this known and outlined other plans for the administration of the dry laws by his department, which on July 1 will take charge of the prohibition bureau now in the treasury department. A widespread rearrangement of present enforcement agencies is planned to take place with the transfer of the prohibition bureau. The present 27 administrative districts, Mitchell said, will be reduced to 12 to conform with the judicial circuits, and the enforcement districts, 87 in number, will be left unchanged to correspond with the judicial districts. A prohibition administrator will be in charge of each of the administrative districts and a deputy will be placed at the head of each enforcement district. All will be under the supervision of Ames W. W. Wood, chief of the bureau, who has been named director of prohibition, and of Howard T. Jones, assistant director. The transfer will take about 2,500 employees from the treasury to the justice department. Approximately 1,700 of these are prohibition agents. In addition the 250 undercover agents who have been operating under the treasury will continue in a similar capacity under the justice department. The treasury will continue to supervise industrial alcohol permits and will retain about 1,700 employees of the prohibition bureau for this purpose. The appropriation of prohibition enforcement has been split between the two departments, $9,000,000 for the justice department and $1,500,000 for the treasury.

Luther Kuehnecker, superintendent in charge of the work, who was ashore at the time, said there was no dynamite aboard the boat. He said the explosion was caused by lightning following the steel shells which were working in the rock or wires leading to the charges which had been placed. The explosion was witnessed by the crew of the U. S. coastguard cutter 211, which was passing in charge of Captain G. R. Lak with M. R. Rasmussen, chief inspector of the Buffalo district, aboard. The cutter hastily made for the spot and lowered a life boat. A number of men were seen clinging to wreckage and while those near the boat were hauled aboard the cutter the life boat picked up others. After hauling 12 survivors, the cutter returned to the scene and searched for others. Accounts of Survivors. Among those rescued was G. L. Brown of Ottawa, a member of the night shift. He said he was asleep in his bunk when the explosion occurred. He said he managed to reach a port-hole and jump over board before the boat sank. He was picked up clinging to a piece of floating wreckage. R. A. McNeil, foreman of the day shift, another survivor, said that the boat seemed to disappear from beneath his feet when the blast occurred.

U. S. MOVES TO END MONOPOLY ON WOOL

Institute Charged with Fixing Prices; Federal Court Injunction Obtained.

By The Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 27.—The federal government struck today to end what it charges is a wool monopoly maintained by the Wool Institute. Federal Judge Grosh of Alabama, sitting in the New York jurisdiction, enjoined the institute and its 138 members from continuing violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, on complaint of government counsel that participants in the wool institute reported to it before every sales season on the subject of prices and "needed to maintain schedules without deviation, thus eliminating all price competition." Members of the Wool Institute control most of the nation's supply of woolen yarns and cloths, according to the complaint filed by the government. The institute consented to the decree, presented to the court by James Lawrence Fly, special assistant to the attorney general, and John O'Brien, head of anti-trust enforcement. The government also alleges that the Wool Institute published "schedules" to be maintained by its members, and that on Dec. 11, 1929, agents of 81 weavers of men's wear met and established prices for the spring of 1930. MRS. FLORENCE HALL CLAIMED AT MEERER Body Will Be Taken to Morral for Funeral Services Sunday.

Mrs. Florence A. Hall died suddenly Thursday at 8:30 p. m. at her home in Meeker following a four weeks' illness with paralysis. The body will be removed to the T. J. Lucas funeral home in Morral Saturday morning and later will be taken to the home of her sister Mrs. Melissa Martin in Morral, where funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Interment will be made in Brush Ridge cemetery. Mrs. Hall was born Aug. 15, 1871 near Brush Ridge and was the daughter of Jacob and Sarah Kerr Huerich. Her marriage in 1888 was to John Goodnight. To this union two children were born, Mrs. McElroy of Kempton, Ind., and a daughter who died in infancy. In 1908 Mrs. Goodnight was married to Dean Hall, whose death occurred in 1913 at Dayton, Minn. Hall had resided in Marion county since the death of her husband and had made her home in Meeker for the last three years. Aside from the daughter, five grandchildren, five sisters, Mrs. Mattie Beaver of Hitehwood, Mrs. Melissa Martin of Morral, Mrs. Charlotte Baker of Brush Ridge and Mrs. Daley E. Welch of Wyandott, and two brothers, Arthur Harris residing in the state of Washington, and Joseph Harris of Wyandott, survive.

RYNN LIKELY TO BE NEW FIRE CAPTAIN

Civil Service Commission Clerk Certifies Name to Safety Director.

Indications were today that James J. Rynn of 200 Helicon avenue will succeed Edward H. Vetter as captain of company No. 1 of the Marion fire department. Rynn's name was certified today to T. B. Somnath, director of public safety, by Russell M. Wilhelm, clerk of the civil service commission. Instead of the three names asked by Director Somnath, Clerk Wilhelm certified but one, as required by law in the case of a promotional appointment. Rynn has been a fireman several years. Names of three men eligible for appointment as patrolman were also certified by Clerk Wilhelm to the Safety director. A successor to Ernest B. Cleveland, recently discharged as patrolman, will eventually be named from these three, although the appointment is not expected soon. The three names are those of Frank L. O'Dowd of 25th Street Prospect street, Cedric V. Sloan of 577 South Main street, and Guy V. Manly of 478 East George street.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE IN BOLIVIAN CAPITAL

Former Vice President Says Rebels Are Commanding Situation.

By The Associated Press. LA PAZ, Peru, June 27.—Hautista Saavedra, former vice president of Bolivia, in a telegram from Arequipa, Chile, today said there had been a heavy loss of life in fighting in streets of La Paz, Bolivian capital, Wednesday night. His message follows: "The rebels are dominating the situation, and I can assure that the only government positions are the government palace and commercial street. It is known that the number killed last night in La Paz is great. Among them many socially prominent persons." Spurred by the martyrdom of a beautiful young Bolivian girl, who with stirring words had urged the men of La Paz to be men and strike in defense of their liberties, a mob in that city Sunday waged a vain and deadly battle with police. The gangsters, mounting machine guns on trucks, repulsed wave after wave of the enraged citizens, until finally 40 or more lay dead on the streets of the mountain capital, and more than 60 lay wounded. The demonstrators then took the bodies of the girl and a boy student companion whom the police also killed and carried them to every part of the city, exhibiting them as evidence of what was called an outrage perpetrated by those whose duty was to defend. Again Monday when a public burial was sought for the dead police officers, the crowds with gun fire and others were killed and wounded. Public excitement grew and continues. DETENTION HOME BURNS. By The Associated Press. AKRON, June 27.—A portion of the women's detention home here was in flames today following a fire in which 40 girls and women prisoners were in peril. The inmates were lined up for removal from the building but fire companies swiftly brought the blaze under control. The state fire marshal's office condemned the prison several weeks ago.

The investigators also heard the loans rumored to run as much as $20,000 were made to Lingle by Sammy Hare, owner of the Delta Winter club and of the Delta, a roadhouse. The significance of this transaction was not revealed. The Herald and Examiner said today that authorities had learned that "Three days before Lingle was killed, police of the state's attorney's office raided and closed the Billmore Athletic club, a gambling resort that State's Attorney Swanson had personally raided a year ago. The next day Lingle called upon an official of the state's attorney's office and complained that the raid had embarrassed him because it told them to go ahead and run it." Request Handbooks Connection. The board of strategy which is in charge of the Lingle murder inquiry also was informed there had been trouble between Lingle and Frank Newell, said to control handbooks operating in many loop office buildings. The inference in all the rumors and reports concerning gang and gambling connections was that Lingle, through his close police connections, was in a position to make or break anyone operating an unlawful "racket." So far as the investigators have revealed, they have as yet no proof of such dealings. They know only that Lingle was a close friend of the recent police commissioner, William Russell, and that he also, through his newspaper work, was well acquainted with many gangsters and gamblers.

"SHEIK" GANGSTER SLAIN IN CLEVELAND

Body of Velotta, Former Husband of Wealthy Woman, Found in Street.

By The Associated Press. CLEVELAND, O., June 27.—Charles Velotta, 28, handsome gangster who at one time was married to the daughter of a wealthy family, was shot and killed early today in the Mayfield road "Little Italy" section. Velotta died at a hospital from 45 bullet wounds in his back an hour and a half after he was found lying in the street. Police said Velotta had been the target of the underworld since the double murder of Ernest Yorkell and Jack Brownstein, who came here from Philadelphia to "shake down" bootleggers but who met gang deaths Oct. 8, 1927. Velotta had driven Yorkell and Brownstein around the city and introduced them at the gambling places and speakeries they later tried to "shake down," police said, and it was considered likely his death sentence was passed for attempts to repeat the extortion scheme. Velotta married Florence Keller two years ago, but she divorced him six months later. She was denied alimony when it was shown she was receiving a $1,400 a month income from her father's estate. Velotta retained with a $100,000 allegation of affection suit against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Norman Keller. The gang victim had a criminal record that dated back to his school days when he became involved in juvenile court and served terms in the Lancaster industrial school for burglary and the Mansfield reformatory for robbery. 20,000 COMING TO OHIO MEET Columbus To Be Center of Nation's Educational Field During Next Week.

By EDWIN SCHOLENBERG Staff Correspondent for The Star. By Brush-Moore Leased Wire. COLUMBUS, June 27.—The eyes of the educational field of the United States will be turned towards the annual conference of the National Education association here during the next week. The meetings open Sunday and will continue through July 5. By Sunday night more than 20,000 persons are expected to be here for the conference. One of the big features of the meeting will be the mammoth presentation of the contribution to educational progress of the nation. It will be staged in the Stadium, Monday night, June 29, and is expected to attract at least 60,000 spectators. A cast of 2,000 taken from educational institutions of Ohio, will take part in the brilliant spectacle. Portraits Cycles. The program will portray in three cycles, definite episodes and symbolic interpretations of the development of the north-west territory and contributions to education made during this period. It will be open to the public and there will be no admission charge. Nationally known figures will come to Columbus to participate as speakers on the general program of the conference. The list includes Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, congresswoman from Florida and daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan; Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university; Dr. William J. Cooper, U. S. commissioner of education, and Lieut. Col. Charles F. Grant, the third grandson of the famous Civil war general. Governor Cooper will give a reception for visitors in the rotunda of the state house the afternoon of July 1. The life membership banquet of the organization on that night will be attended by more than 300 veterans of the educational field. Speaker for July 1. John H. Fisher, literary editor of the New York Times, has been selected to make the patriotic address at the organization's independence day program in the Stadium, July 1. President Hoover had been invited to make the address but he was unable to accept. Such problems as retirement allowances, tenure, and health in education will be thrashed out in committees during the conference here. Education in Alaska and cooperation with teachers in colored school, enrichment of adult life, and international relations.

SLAYER'S EXECUTION SET FOR SATURDAY

Extra Precautions Taken in Plans for Williams' Death at Ohio Prison.

By International News Service. COLUMBUS, O., June 27.—While George Williams, 68, Cleveland slayer and gunman, steadfastly insisted that he wouldn't die in "nobody's electric chair," preparations today were being made for his execution at Ohio penitentiary some time Saturday. Williams, unless executive clemency is forthcoming, is to pay the supreme penalty for the slaying of Carl Sherman, a Cleveland policeman. Authorities at the penitentiary were taking extra precautions to prevent any disturbance at the prison or at central police station, where Williams is confined and where he will be held until shortly before the time of his execution. Williams, who was one of the leaders in the "White City" riots following the Easter Monday fire at the battle, gives his age as 63 but appears to be much younger. Many killings, besides his shooting of Sherman, have been attributed to Williams. LIMA OFFICER FREED IN MURDER MYSTERY. Inspector Accused in Prisoner's Death Reinstated on Police Force. By International News Service. LIMA, O., June 27.—Police Inspector George A. Strick is free today from second-degree murder charges in connection with the death of a prisoner, Justice Harry J. Bennett freed the officer from the charge yesterday when he held that the testimony was contradictory and insufficient. Strick was charged with having caused the death of Harry Clarkson June 5 during an alleged "third degree" session while police were questioning the prisoner. The prosecution declared that Clarkson was severely injured and died several days later due to an alleged beating. The police head was automatically reinstated to his position by Justice Bennett's dismissal of the case. It was suspended last week, pending the outcome of the hearing. LIVES OF 5 BOYS LOST IN OHIO RIVER. Four Drown When Boats Upset; Fifth Goes Down While Swimming. Five Ohio boys were drowned in the Ohio river yesterday at three points, a tribulation made today by International News Service revealed today. Two youths were drowned near Marietta when their canoe capsized during a small gale. Three companions swam to shore. The dead boys were Charles Chidester, 15, and Ralph Campbell, 15, consens. Campbell's body was recovered shortly after the tragedy and the body of Chidester was found early today by county authorities after an all-night search. The deaths of the two boys brought the total of river disaster victims during the present season to nine. William O'Neil, 10, and Clifford Umstead, 10, both of East Liverpool, drowned near their home when their rowboat was overturned by a wave from a motorboat. Both bodies were recovered several hours later. The Ohio river also claimed the life of Charles Harris, 14, near Martins Ferry while he was swimming with several companions. His body was found an hour later.

Extra Precautions Taken in Plans for Williams' Death at Ohio Prison.

By International News Service. COLUMBUS, O., June 27.—While George Williams, 68, Cleveland slayer and gunman, steadfastly insisted that he wouldn't die in "nobody's electric chair," preparations today were being made for his execution at Ohio penitentiary some time Saturday. Williams, unless executive clemency is forthcoming, is to pay the supreme penalty for the slaying of Carl Sherman, a Cleveland policeman. Authorities at the penitentiary were taking extra precautions to prevent any disturbance at the prison or at central police station, where Williams is confined and where he will be held until shortly before the time of his execution. Williams, who was one of the leaders in the "White City" riots following the Easter Monday fire at the battle, gives his age as 63 but appears to be much younger. Many killings, besides his shooting of Sherman, have been attributed to Williams. LIMA OFFICER FREED IN MURDER MYSTERY. Inspector Accused in Prisoner's Death Reinstated on Police Force. By International News Service. LIMA, O., June 27.—Police Inspector George A. Strick is free today from second-degree murder charges in connection with the death of a prisoner, Justice Harry J. Bennett freed the officer from the charge yesterday when he held that the testimony was contradictory and insufficient. Strick was charged with having caused the death of Harry Clarkson June 5 during an alleged "third degree" session while police were questioning the prisoner. The prosecution declared that Clarkson was severely injured and died several days later due to an alleged beating. The police head was automatically reinstated to his position by Justice Bennett's dismissal of the case. It was suspended last week, pending the outcome of the hearing. FEDERAL AUTO THEFT CHARGE FACES PAIR

Clothiers Arrested at Meeker Said To Be Wanted by Officers in Two States

A federal charge of illegally moving automobiles from one state to another facing Howard and Walter Elliott, alias Howard and Walter Smith, who were arrested more than a week ago at Meeker by Sheriff John J. Francis.

The two brothers gave their names as Smith and their home as Carrollton, O., but an investigation conducted by Francis revealed their names as Elliott and their home as Jefferson county one of the places where they are said to be wanted. When caught at Meeker the men were driving a Chevrolet sedan allegedly stolen from a Jefferson county physician.

BY BOB ELLIOTT

Benny Crabtree, lost the prize tough luck game of the season last night on the Steam Shovel No. 2 diamond when he held the shagging Erie Roundhouse team to two lonely singles only to lose to 1 when the Huber outfit committed seven errors behind him several of them costly. The win gave the railroad team a 100 per cent record over Huber and the Shovel Club who are tied for second place with the same record in seven games.

Huber's one run was earned on successive hits by O. Connell and Ed. Shannon in the fifth after one was out. Shannon did an excellent job of hitting ground out and Wilson did out. The last Roundhouse run was also earned when Ed. Pifer tripped to center and scored on Lane's sacrifice fly to left field. The winning run was scored in the first of the seventh. Lane opened with a walk and when Wilson tried to bunt a ball back after a little pop fly but Wilson missed it and both runners were safe. Trying to catch runners were safe. Trying to catch runners were safe. Trying to catch runners were safe.

McClellan threw a change for the championship should they happen to defeat Erie Roundhouse in their postponed game by defeating the Yale Yardman 6 to 2. The score could not do a whole lot to Roundhouse while the Yankees got to Wilson and Buslan for two runs in the first, one in the third and three more in the fourth. O. D. & M. now trails the Erie Roundhouse by two full games but has a game to playoff with the Roundhouse.

Oscar succumbed peacefully to the offerings of Bob Gamble for six innings and Fairfield seemed headed for its second win but the seventh inning was a nightmare for all concerned and when it was over the winners had 10 runs and the ball game was won in a score of 11 to 8. Piffert's tough when you get hold of a six run lead for one inning. Everybody but Shovel scored in the big inning while two players tallied twice. Fairfield now is down in the depths of seventh place and not so far from eighth.

Shovel Club had an easy time with Gruber and his railroaders defeating them 8 to 0 in the penultimate game. Zig Snyder threw the side in order in five of the first six innings, only 20 men facing him altogether in these six games. This Shovel team looks more and more like the outfit that the Erie Roundhouse is going to have to beat for the league championship although the "Diggers" lost their first round engagement to the lead.

MINOR LEAGUE MAY PLAY SPLIT SEASON

Association To Vote on Question July 1; Louisville Opposed

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, June 27.—The possibility of a split season for the minor league baseball season is a question that will be voted on by the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues on July 1. Louisville is opposed.

The split season would mean that the season would be divided into two parts, one for the regular season and one for the playoffs. The Louisville team is opposed to this plan because it would mean that the team would have to play a longer season and would have to play more games.

Chicken Salad Recipes Available in Wide Variety

DO YOU like chicken salad to taste definitely of chicken? Or does the family prefer it a bit more pungent—like hotel chicken salad?

The best chicken salad is not necessarily all solid chicken with its flavoring intact. It depends on what one prefers. Some housekeepers believe that an equal quantity of cold cooked veal added to chicken makes a vast improvement in the flavor of chicken salad. Or a cup of chopped walnuts.

Here are directions for two kinds of chicken salad—simple, with its own flavor preserved, or pepped up a bit:

Plain Chicken Salad

A tender roasted chicken should be used, and not cooked too long—just long enough and with its juices kept—not allowed to get dry. Chill and cut in dice. Mix with mayonnaise dressing and some chopped celery—about one-half cupful of celery to each cup of chicken. Fill on lettuce leaves on individual plates and keep cold until the moment of serving.

Pungent Chicken Salad

A font of soup chicken is quite good enough. Place the cleaned, disjointed bird in a large saucepan with sufficient hot water to cover. Add a tablespoon of salt and let simmer until tender, then set aside to cool. Do not remove the fowl until cold, then carefully keep the liquid in a cold place for later use—as a cold filled soup or the basis for sauce.

Put the chicken into cubes and place in an earthen bowl. Mix together two tablespoons of oil four tablespoons of vinegar, one teaspoon of salt, and one-half teaspoon of pepper and pour over the chicken. Let it marinate in this mixture for several hours in the refrigerator. Then mix with chopped celery, in chess picnic. A basket dinner was chopped zerkins or walnuts and mayonnaise dressing.

If duck is used instead of chicken for the salad mix with mayonnaise, pile on lettuce leaves and garnish with a ring of thin orange slices.
